“ Ms. Beverley always had a smile and a kind word when she would walk through the neighborhood and by our house. She made the World a brighter place.

“ For several years I had the pleasure to teach with the faculty at Worley Junior High with Beverley. She was an exceptional teacher and held in high regard by the faculty, administration and students. She will be missed and I will miss her friendship. Our condolences to the family. Vivian C. Davis

“ Thank you, sweet Beverley for being in my life and for giving of yourself.

I salute you for teaching the fine art of belly dance to so many.

Joan and I started together with the Free University through the New Orleans Library in the fall of 1979.

There were six of us who were so very different but had the common thread of you. Our group lasted for many years.

Right from the start you involved us in the Middle Eastern Dance Association which brought in internationally acclaimed teachers for workshops and performance.

What a rich history you gave us.

When I first met my husband in 1986, you and I invited him to Dallas to a dance workshop.

When he wanted a Catholic wife, you became my godmother. Your thoughtfulness and gentle nature enhanced me.

Your pets and the birds benefited from your care.

The world is definitely a better place for your having been in it, Beverley.

You will be missed and inspire still.

I so applaud and appreciate what your niece, Sybil Claire, did to support your care.

She was right there for you week after week, often twice a week, cheerfully giving the family news.

Sybil Claire did your laundry when you were in the Hammond Nursing Home so that you could continue to look good in pretty coordinated outfits.

I found out you were headed to the nursing home after checking on you after widespread flooding in Laplace (you didn't flood), where you lived for many years after moving from New Orleans to be closer to your family. I was honored to visit regularly and to add more color to your life with decorations reflecting the seasons.

*In the end you were looking for your parents and your brother. It was time for you to go.
God Bless you dear Beverley!*

“Dear Beverley -- It was so wonderful dancing with you in your delightful classes! You were such a good friend. I wish you all the best on the other side, and hope you will be dancing with the angels! and that we will all dance together again one day. Lots of love and best wishes to you and to your family and loved ones that are grieving. Miss you, xxoo Joan

“My best memory of Aunt Bev involve her love of learning. She taught me a lot especially during the summer between eighth and ninth grade when I went to summer school. I spent that summer at my Grandparents where she lived. She would ask if I was finished my homework. If I was we went somewhere. That often meant we went to a museum but sometimes it was someplace just plain fun like Ponchatrain Beach which was a great amusement park.
