“ My Dearest Big Sister what I wouldn't give to hear you fuss one more time. One memory I will never forget; I was probably 3 at the time. HBO (Home Box Office for the young'ns) was still primarily ppv. You ordered Nightmare on Elm Street while babysitting yours truly. I said I wanted to watch TV, you said "I bought ppv so you are watching what I watch or I don't know what to tell you." I hid behind the sofa for the entire movie and when it was over you said "I'm going to bed you are on your own." I did not get a single drop of sleep that night. I still love horror to this day and Nightmare on Elm Street is still my favorite.
Love you forever,
Little Brother

“ My dearest beloved child you left behind a massive hole here in my heart. I will love you forever. But you moved on way too soon. I know your hurts, burdens and pain were more than you could carry alone. I wish I could have washed away your problems and wiped away your pain. Tears will never be enough to express my deep sorrow. Fly high upon the mountains and soar across the sky my angel. I look forward to the day I join you and we can fly together. Once again I love you far beyond your comprehension. Always on my heart ❤️, Mom
