“ Susie was destined to become my friend from the first time I met her. It was right after i started going out with her cousin, Helen. She never looked at me as being a non family member. She had a playful personality that made everyone she met instantly fall in love with her. She brought up her children to be like her in many ways. Her cousin Helen and I were extremely blessed to have her participate in our weeding. Susie leaves us to answer the Lords calling . Her mission on earth is now complete. She will be reunited with her deceased family members. She will never have to suffer another day. She leaves behind a lot of everyone who knew her with a lot of great memories. We are only dancing on this earth for a short time. Susie will live on in our hearts forever. To see her lovely smile simply look up toward Heaven and find the brightest shing new star named Susie.

“ I will miss cooking her my late mothers cornbread dressing for Thanksgiving. She really enjoyed it and I will have fond memories of the joy I shared in preparing it for her. May God's peace be with her Willie #126.
