He was a great man, loved by all. He was a hard-working man, working at Kaiser as a machinist for 30 years. He was very family-oriented; he loved his wife and children and would do anything for them. He was a wonderful provider for his family. He was a problem solver, teaching us how to work hard and if we needed something done, he would teach us how to do it. There's nothing he wouldn't do for his family. He always had our backs no matter the situation. He was the best dad ever. He was a master at sneaky things telling each of us "Now don't tell mama", ice cream or a snack was usually involved. He loved camping and church. His love for God was enormous. He always wanted us to be the best we could be.

“ I love you pawpaw. You mean the world to me. I remember always going outside and working in the shop building stuff, fixing stuff. I miss you so much. I want you to know I'll always think about you and all you have done for me. I love you so much.

“ Such a loving caring man , his love for God enabled him to love others unconditionally. I remember some advice he give me for a grandchild, them to never allow anyone to get between them and their money, when she was having trouble on her job. I cherish those words in my heart still today. , Judy M Robinson
