“ I will never forget him. He reminded me of my Dad so much as a child. I spent so many nights there. He was always in the garage working on vehicles or we would sit early morning's talking about life while Jennifer was out riding horses and Ms Sheryl cleaning up. As I got older we would see one another in doctors offices or grocery stores etc. he always had jokes and a smile. Good times. Probably the only man besides my father who walked around acting and looking like Victor Newman from the young and the restless. Lol. Love ya Jack. I'd never call him Mr because he'd say I ain't old girl... and laugh. You'll be missed by many. Thx as well for getting us out of trouble and covering for us too from the parties at your house to the toilet paper houses and watching us sneak back in the house and acting like you didn't see us haha. That grin I can see now as I write this. So glad to have met all of your beautiful children as well. My best friends and like my own sisters. May God wrap his arms around each and every one of you right now. Hope you all remember all the great and fun times and smile. He was awesome!!! Hugs and Love. Jessica Buras.
