“ Our sister Lorraine. We will miss you with an ache beyond words. You were there for every single celebration of life and happy times. You were there for the sad and hard times too. You taught us all that the simple things mean the most. That just letting people know you were thinking about them means so much. You showed us how important family was to you and how much we should all be thankful for each other and family. You loved your faith and your church and never missed an opportunity to be a part of your spiritual life. You are smart and knew your stuff. We joked that you were the lawyer in the family. We have been at your house planning for today - and just imagining you are in the next room. Waiting for you to walk in and knowing some of the stuff you would be cracking up about. Some of the stuff I would look at you and we would give a knowing nod about what we were talking or laughing about. We kept waiting for you to walk in and voice your opinion or take over making the plans. We were all so willing to do this for you - but it's been a surreal process. We all wrote special Lorraine stories and were amazed that you were able to make so many people feel like they were the most special. When putting together your photo album- we kept saying we need more with you in front or in the middle - but that was not your way. Philip is going to need you to look over him from your place in the heavens. He is a mess without you and will need as much of your energy as you can send. While you're at it, we could all use you looking over us in passing like you did in here on earth. I have written so many things about you because it was easy. One thing I land on in the lessons we learned from you is - everybody needs a little more Lorraine in their life. Thank you for treating my children like they were your own. You know how much that meant to them and to me. We all love you and miss you - April

“ Ms. Lorraine was, is, and always will be loved. As someone who married into the family, I always felt welcomed by her. Her love for her family was obvious even from an outsiders perspective. She was a genuine caring person who went that extra mile. She was to be the godmother of my youngest child. It breaks my heart that he will never know her but gives me peace knowing she will be watching over him and her family. May GOD bless you and you live eternity in the kingdom of Heaven Ms. Lorraine.

“ Phillip and Tara,

Jules and I are so sorry for the loss of your beloved Lorraine. We certainly enjoyed working with Lorraine in her time with John.

When someone as special as Lorraine lived the way she did, her legacy is sure to live on through the many lives she touched. May she RIP. 🙏

“ To my friend and co-worker, I will miss you dearly. Greatly admired the love and care that you exhibited for your loved ones. It was truly incredible to witness. I will cherish our conversations together and will truly miss working along side of you every day. Thank you for teaching me to pay attention to the little things that often mean the most . May you rest in eternal peace.
