“ I guess by now you have your faithful Lucky back with you,I know you were glad to see him,I can see Lucky running towards you his little ears flapping in the wind. Bonnie will be lost without him but she will have comfort in knowing that you are together once again. White cat has looked for him I know he misses him too. Give him a hug from me and tell him we will take care of Bonnie,until we meet again--enjoy each other,think of those that miss you all. Run free and chase all the critters little Lucky. I miss you!!

“ Mine and my family's condolences to those who knew and loved Ray. He was truly a good friend, not just someone you called a friend. Ray's name always came to mind when thinking or speaking of "the coolest or the best guys" you know. It is hard to think of Ray as gone, some lights just seem to bright to just go out. Ray was one of the best and smartest guys I ever knew. He was awesome to talk to about just about anything, even if you disagreed with him, it was well worth the time and conversation. His sense of humor and wit made being around Ray a true pleasure even when you were both in a bad situation. He is and will always be sorely missed.

We regretfully have never had the opportunity to meet you, however, we wanted you to know we were both shocked and saddened to read of Ray's passing.

Myself, along with my Brother Terry have known Raymond since he was 12 years old. We grew up in the same neighbourhood, went to the same schools, with Terry having worked with Ray at the local oil refinery.

It does not seem that long ago that we visited the local funeral home when Ray's Mom passed.

Please accept our sincere condolences.
