“ My favorite moment was when he picked me up in the middle of the night after we had an argument and I ran off.

When I was beating myself up saying how selfish I was and he said “but Chelsey your not selfish, with a look of sadness in his eyes he made a comment on my response to getting a bed that was old and broken “he said you should have seen the look on your face when you got that bed”. He talked about that Alabama trip for months. He was like a little kid again, I wish that I could have gotten to know him like that sooner. He is a place I go to when I think of Jesus Christ. Of course Jesus walked in the fullness of god and had no sin, I think of him and I am glad that I don’t question or wonder where he is now. I believe with all my soul, that he is now with his one true love at peace. Resting, and completely and totally free!

“ I am so grateful for my time with Ricky while we cared for Debbie. He was a very dear and precious brother. He was so loving and thoughtful. We always knew he loved us and He always knew we loved him. I was blessed to be his sister. Miss him terribly!
