“ I used to sit behind you in almost all of our science classes in high school just to play with your hair. You told me that was your favorite thing, and even though it terrified me to do it, you encouraged it and joked with me about it. I'm just discovering you're gone from this plane after occasionally checking on what you're doing with your art, and where you ended up. I wish I could have caught up with you before you left, and I regret that I'm sharing all of this so late... too late.
