“ I will miss you daily Parrain. Tell Paboy, MawMaw and MaMa I hope to be reunited some day with all of you. The manner in which you lived as a husband, father and uncle was a role model for me and my family. That was your gift to me.

Darryl J St Pierre - May 26, 2019 at 08:04 PM

“ I miss you so much, Daddy. I love you. I'm remembering how you taught me to make my bed, wash my car and change the oil. How you loved being outside working on cars and gardening and cutting grass. Be at peace now Daddy.

“ Uncle Sammy never had a bad word to say about anyone and I remember the smell of his pipe. I remember that I I like the smell. I will miss you and will always remember.

“ I first met Sammy on my first day at Amoco in New Orleans in 1966. Our friendship and love for each other grew over the years. A great storyteller and a sharp memory and quick wit. Since 1989 we have shared many, many stories from the past. Some of my best memories, and there are MANY, are when he, Jerry Rosato, and I worked on doing the retirement "roasts" for Papa Cotton and Ben Petrusek. He helped me in my career at Amoco. The paleontology dept in New Orleans was a family, a memory I will always cherish. Take care of the pecan trees and gardens in Heaven now Sammy. You deserve the rest. You are loved and will be missed. May GOD cradle your friends and your family in his arms and give them strength. Your legacy is great and you have raised a great family and spent many wonderful years, "with Dot, your beautiful spring bride". Fair winds and following seas my dear friend. YOU DONE WELL 🙏😊💖👍

“ Shari Songy lit a candle in memory of Samuel "Sammy" Paul Miano Sr.

Shari Songy - April 23, 2019 at 12:30 PM

Kenneth Songy (my husband) was just down to LA from our home in Maryland and spent a day with his sister, Dot, and Sammy. Sammy was always kind and loving to us when we visited - one of our favorite memories was the crawfish boil he never failed to have to celebrate our visit with the whole family. Our sympathy and prayers for all the Miano and Songy family.
