“Sharleen was my friend. We had a class together in high school. She was a pretty blonde with curly hair and blue eyes like pools of water. We would run into each other years later every now and then. We later shared the grief of suicide. I brought her Communion for many years. She was a good person. She was also a good cook and I got to sample a lot of of her stuff over the years, her good vegetable soup. She loved her children, grandchildren great grandchildren I, all of them I will miss her.
