“ We are so sorry for your great loss! I remember a wonderful, funny and always giving man. One of my favorite memories was the day he took Matt and Jon to teach them to drive. They tell the story better than me, but it was hilarious, exciting and fringed with danger (Jon driving on interstate for the first time behind a wheel). He will always be remembered with a smile. We are praying for you and your family. May God give you consolation. The Blackwells
