“ My Padoo was an amazing person. He was my best friend when I was a child. He made my childhood awesome. I remember being so excited to get home from school and see him waiting at the bus stop on his lawnmower and we'd ride back to his house. We'd go across the railroad tracks and pick wild blackberries, sometimes we'd get poison ivy but it was always worth it. Padoo taught me many things in life and most importantly how to love the outdoors and nature. We were always doing something outside and he was such a great cook. I'm thankful that my last time seeing him I got to make red rice with him. It was one of my favorite dishes he'd make. Everytime I came to visit he'd make it for me 💖 no one will ever compare to him. I wish I had more time with him. I love you Padoo and I'll miss you every day.

“ He was definitely one of a kind. An amazing man inside and out. It's going to feel crazy coming down to visit and not going to see you. It's not fair how soon you had to leave us but I'm so glad you're not in anymore pain. I'm going to miss your cooking and catching up with you. You will be missed dearly and we love you. Rest easy, padoo.

“ Thessalonians 4: 13-18
13 Brothers and sisters, we do not want you to be uninformed about those who sleep in death, so that you do not grieve like the rest of mankind, who have no hope. 14 For we believe that Jesus died and rose again, and so we believe that God will bring with Jesus those who have fallen asleep in him. 15 According to the Lord's word, we tell you that we who are still alive, who are left until the coming of the Lord, will certainly not precede those who have fallen asleep. 16 For the Lord himself will come down from heaven, with a loud command, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet call of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. 17 After that, we who are still alive and are left will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so we will be with the Lord forever. 18 Therefore encourage one another with these words.
