“ I remember Uncle Wilson always rode from the B&B to the hunting spot with my Dad & I. He along with my Dad always drove the dogs. Everybody else wanted to go ahead where the dogs would run the rabbits too. But Uncle Wilson had a eye for those rabbits. He would get as many as anybody else . Sometimes more. He also had a eye for finding things. We were driving back from a hunt & he told my dad stop pull over & backup. There was a ratchet wrench on the side of the road. He picked it up & said I have one like that you can have this one. I miss those days. He always had the best dog. Most of them were named after different beers .
